

USB-C to USB-A Adapter

Part no: TypeCTypeA · T2-107

Description

Looking to use your FIDO2 Type-C key with devices that only have USB Type-A ports? Our FIDO2 USB-C to USB-A adapter makes it possible!

This adapter is specifically designed to connect your FIDO2 USB Type-C key to any device with a USB Type-A port, enabling secure and convenient authentication. With its durable construction and easy-to-use design, this adapter ensures a seamless experience every time you authenticate with your FIDO2 key.

Specifications

| Specification    | Details                                                                                                                                                |
|------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Connector Type   | USB-C (female) to USB-A (male)                                                                                                                         |
| Compatibility    | Supports FIDO2 protocol on compatible devices                                                                                                          |
| Protocol Support | FIDO protocols only                                                                                                                                    |
| Material         | Durable, high-quality construction                                                                                                                     |
| Size             | Compact and portable                                                                                                                                   |
| Usage            | Plug-and-play, no additional drivers requiredLightweight for easy carryingA keyhole for convenient attachment to keychains (ropes recommended) |
| Color            | Black and Silver                                                                                                                                       |

Specifications

| GENERAL      |              |
|--------------|--------------|
| Form factor  | Adapter      |
| Type         | Adapter      |
| Interface    | USB-A, USB-C |
| CONNECTIVITY |              |
| USB-A        | Yes          |
| USB-C        | Yes          |